Fintech Select Completes Cryptocurrency API Integration For Point of Sale Transactions

Toronto, ON, October 24, 2017 – Fintech Select Ltd. (“Fintech Select” or the “Company”) (TSX-V: FTEC) is pleased to announce that it has completed API Integration for Cryptocurrency capability for the Company’s existing Point of Sale (POS) infrastructure.

As announced on October 4, 2017, Fintech Select entered into a Letter of Intent (“LOI”) with Canadian Bitcoins, a national cryptocurrency dealer. The two parties are currently finalizing the terms of a Definitive Agreement. The terms spelt out in the Definitive Agreement will form the basis for a national rollout of POS Cryptocurrency purchasing and selling capability.

Operating under the brand name of Selectcoin, the Company is in the process of beginning to accept payments at retail POS locations to facilitate the purchase and sale of Bitcoins and other cryptocurrencies.

“We are very excited to initiate the technical development of a national Cryptocurrency POS network. Cryptocurrencies and Blockchain ledger transactions represent a fundamental shift away from the traditional bricks and mortar of existing financial service providers. Fintech Select’s Selectcoin service aims to be at the forefront of this transition by providing financial services to underserved consumers who are demanding a shift away from the current paradigm,” states Mohammad Abuleil, CEO and President, Fintech Select.

The Company will be providing regular updates as they occur on the national rollout of the Selectcoin platform.
